

Monday, November 26th, 2018

Statement of Commitment to GS1 and PEPPOL Adoption

To Whom It May Concern;

We, Cadwell Industries, Inc., hereby confirm commitment to the adoption of GS1 and PEPPOL standard to as they apply to the Department of Health, National Health Services (UK NHS) eProcurement strategy.

Cadwell recognizes both the importance and significance of the UK NHS eProcurement strategy and is cross functionally committed to adopting compliance with GS1 standards at a global level.

GS1 adoption has been and continues to be a primary focus of our organization. Compliance with GS1 standards are taken into account and manages cross-functionally across our Quality Assurance / Regulatory Affairs, product labeling, manufacturing, logistic, information technology and order fulfillment areas. Our on-going commitment to GS1 adoption can best be demonstrated through our compliance with United States Food and Drug Administration's requirement for Unique Device Identification (UDI).

We will work to achieve further compliance with GS1 and PEPPOL by end of 2019.

Cadwell is committed to the completion of the Supplier Self-Declaration twice yearly until full implementation is achieved.

At Cadwell we are happy for our support for this project to be published via this statement.

If you have any further questions regarding the information that we have shared in this statement, please do not hesitate to contact our Quality Assurance and Regulatory Assurance at quality@cadwell.com

CADWELL INDUSTRIES, INC.

Patrick S. Jensen, Ph.D.
Chief Executive Officer
Cadwell Industries, Inc.
909 North Kellogg Street
Kennewick, WA 99336
U.S.A.